The Best Part of Me

Allister Bradley Bertram (SOCAN), May 2026

Forgive me my silence
But words can't convey what I feel
Sometimes I'm scared, that I'll let you down
'cause I'm not made of steel

It's no little thing
You hold the strings on this foolish old heart
God knows, even a fool can see
You're the best part of me

You're the best part
La la la la, la la la la
You're the best part of me

You taught me patience
I helped you learn to be strong
You stirred a love like no other I'd known
When you came along

It's no little thing
You hold the strings on this foolish old heart
God knows, even a fool can see
You're the best part of me

I used to feel lucky, 'cause I could get by on my own
Now I know what I'd be missing
If I couldn't be here, watching you grow

Well, I have no doubt
That living without you, I'd surely fall apart
It scares me to see, how small my life would be
'cause you're the best part...

It's no little thing
You hold the strings on this foolish old heart
God knows, even a fool can see
You're the best part of me

You're the best part
La la la la, la la la la
You're the best part of me
La la la la, la la la la
You're the best part of me
